

The company behind the sealer

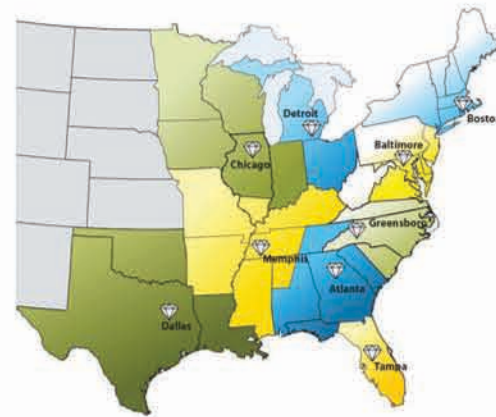

A name you can trust.

GemSeal manufactures the Guardian family of products, FedSpec and PolyTar® sealcoating products at 10 plants located across the eastern half of the U.S. Our extensive distributor network, bulk tanker delivery service and jobsite tanker fleet is unsurpassed. GemSeal's renowned product quality, technical knowledge, and experienced contractor network can enable property managers to maintain a consistent and professional appearance at multiple properties, across geographic areas. For over 50 years the GemSeal team has been passionate about pavement products.

GemSeal's full product line offers pavement sealers, additives for sealers, patching material, crack sealing materials, primers, traffic marking paints, tools and equipment.

Quality we stand by.

Respected for high business ethics and service, GemSeal has earned a position as a leading manufacturer of quality sealers and services you can depend on.

Every GemSeal manufacturing plant maintains its own testing and quality laboratories assuring exacting quality control. Each lab conducts ongoing random sampling of products from the plant to guarantee uniformity between batches. This level of quality control is to assure consistency, high standards and the best products in the sealcoat industry. Pavement is our Passion!®

Contractor Brochure

The GemSeal Difference!

Why have contractors throughout the US preferred GemSeal® pavement maintenance products for over 50 years? Because they can help you perform at your best, with results you and your demanding customers can be proud of. Every gallon of GemSeal FedSpec sealer is certified and tested to meet or exceed federal specification ASTM D5727 (formerly RP-355e), ensuring proper solids, ash content and viscosity for a job well done.

GemSeal's Guardian family of sealers provide contractors another high quality sealer option in those markets that prefer asphalt emulsion sealers.

Only GemSeal offers POLY-TAR, with a 25 year track record in the field, as the longest lasting asphalt pavement coating available in the market today. PolyTar is just one example of the GemSeal DIFFERENCE in offering high quality, innovative products at a superior value.

Pavement is our Passion!®

Why

Before

After

Quality - in every gallon. GemSeal sealers use only tested and certified raw materials in a sophisticated colloid milling process to produce the most consistent sealer for an even application. Our rigorous quality control program ensures every gallon of sealer meets the highest standards to eliminate call backs and costly reapplications contractors often experience with lower quality products. GemSeal has you covered with high quality, high performance products, so you can be proud of every job.
